SOCIETY Annie Kenny, the Original Militant, Gives Her Reasons For Leading Riots of London

Miss Buella Early, daughter of Mrs. Mark Warlick, 116 Ewing st., and Otto Miller, son of Mrs. Joseph Miller, 111 N. Bridge st., were united in marriage at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening at the parish house of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Rev. P. J. Carroll officiating. The attendants were Miss Anna Miller, sister of the groom, and Homer Desmor. The bride was dressed in a simple but beautiful gown of white crepe de chine, with a picture hat and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore white embroidered voile with trimmings of Irish lace and carried sweet peas. After the ceremony a reception was held at the new home of the young couple, 817 E. Bowman st., which has been completely furnished. Pinks and cut flowers were used profusely in decorating. After a short wedding trip they will be at home at 815 E. Bowman st. The groom is the foreman of the drivers at the Ideal Laundry Co.

Mrs. Katherine Blakely, 121 Keasey st., was delightfully surprised Tuesday evening by a company of friends and neighbors, in celebration of her 45th wedding anniversary. The evening was spent in a sociable way and at its close light refreshments were served.

Mrs. Fred H. Wagner entertained the members of her Sunday school class of the Trinity M. E. church Tuesday afternoon at a farewell party for Miss Thelma Van Doren, who will leave Thursday for Detroit to live. The afternoon was spent with music furnished by Miss Van Doren, and with games. At the close of the afternoon the hostess served dinner at a daintily appointed table adorned with crimson rambler roses. Besides the honor guests covers were placed for the Misses Dorothy Axtell, Stella Hauger, Esther Ransperger, Marjorie and Nellie Hicks and Dorothy Locke and Rev. Guy O. Carpenter, student pastor of the church.

In the presence of about 30 relatives and friends, Miss Ethel Miller Crockett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crockett, 827 W. Colfax av., and M. Z. L. Fuller of Birmingham, Ala., were married Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The ceremony, marked by its simplicity, was performed by the Rev. C. A. Lippincott, in the living room at the bride's home where June lilies and white sweet peas were used with charming effect in decoration. White posts were placed on either side of the altar, and a canopy of blossoms formed an arch beneath which the bride and groom stood. Miss Crockett was unattended save for her niece, little Miss Elizabeth Crockett, who acted as flower girl.

The bride was dressed in white ivory satin, with a bodice of white and cream point and applique lace. She wore a full length veil, caught here and there with clusters of orange blossoms, which were also used upon the bodice. She carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served in the dining room where a mound of white sweet peas and roses adorned the table. The young people left at once for the east. They will make their home in Birmingham, Ala. Miss Crockett is one of the most charming and popular young women in South Bend, having spent her life here. She leaves a host of friends who regret her departure. Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merz, Uniontown, Penn.; Mrs. W. S. Croft and daughter, and Mrs. Geo. P. Hoover from Brownville, Mo.; Harry Stillman from Macon, Ga.; and Miss Agnes Stevenson of Cleveland, Ohio.

Complimenting Miss LaVerne Rousch, Keasey st., who will be married Saturday to Jesse Hilde, Mrs. Wm. Rousch, Miss Ethel Bondurant and Miss Treva Geyer entertained Monday evening at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Rousch, Elder st. There were about 40 present, among them the Sunday school class of the United Brethren church to which Miss Rousch belongs. Dainty refreshments were served.

Miss Mary Mills, 624 N. Michigan st., very pleasantly entertained the Lucky Ten club Tuesday with a picnic at Leeper park. The day was spent with various games, a feature being the delicious picnic dinner served at noon. Miss Martha Hood, 419 N. Michigan st., was a guest of the club. Miss Gladys Kightman, 701 N. Jefferson st., will entertain Tuesday, June 30.

Mrs. P. N. Walle was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Social Sixteen club at her home on Marietta st. In contests, favors were awarded Mrs. Oliver Johnson and Mrs. John Mayer. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. J. P. Anderson, Sherman av., will entertain the club in three weeks.

Annie Kenny

HERE'S LIFE STORY OF ANNIE KENNY.

BY MARY BOYLE O'REILLY, Staff Special.

LONDON.—Annie Kenny, the principle organizer and chief lieutenant of the militant suffragettes, is a daughter of the people.

At ten years of age, little Annie was a half-timer in an Oldham mill. At 12 she was earning fair wages, but much less than boys who did precisely the same work. And she wondered why.

At 15, when mill girls were assisting for better wages, Annie got them their rights. Immediately they chose her to represent them upon the district committee trade union. For this she received 15 cents a week.

Annie Kenny became a corresponding student of the Ruskin college, Oxford. Three years later the Lancashire mill worker came to London alone.

Before the year was out she was arrested for trying to see the prime minister. Followed a long series of arrests, hunger strikes, and releases under the cat and mouse act.

"If I cannot change some of the laws affecting women I can at least die in the attempt," says Annie Kenny.

BY ANNIE KENNEY.

The Original Militant.

The policy of the Women's Social and Political union, the militant organization, is the attack on property and on property alone. This policy has undergone no change.

The policy of attacking human life is left to the militant opponents of home rule in Ireland. The militant women continue to respect human life.

But their warfare on property has been intensified by the government's recent measures of coercion.

What are we going to do? We have got to fight on. I should like to see the sandwich boards all over London the phrase, "Wanted, more militants."

No woman ought to go out without a hammer in her pocket. You who cannot break windows, for goodness sake get on with something else! Every one can "do" a pillar-box. It is the duty of every suffragette to go on attacking and attacking and attacking, whenever they can do so without being caught. We must not be kept on getting arrested. We must get off, if we can, so we may go on doing more damage.

We must make it like a siege. We must make London absolutely intolerable to the average citizen until the average citizen will fill Palace yard to tell the government that women will have to have the vote at once.

There are five and a half million working women in England who go out to earn their daily bread. Yet the "anties" have the face to cry all day long "the face in the home!" I am thankful as an industrial worker that the working women of the country are prepared to fight every inch of the way, if need be, to win for themselves the liberty which men have found so necessary in order to win reform and bring about better conditions of their sex!

Can any working man who rightly insists that his point of view shall be heard in the house of commons think that we working women should be entirely unrepresented? Laws are being made regulating the labor of women in various ways; it is utterly wrong if those laws are passed by men not responsible in any way to the women for whom the legislature.

The working men found many years ago that they needed the vote to protect their labor and later to protect their union. The member who is sent to parliament by the trade unions has to obey the men who sent him. But the women, who in some trades far outnumber the men, have no representative, though they work the same long hours in the same hot, stifling factories, often doing the same work for less pay!

It is not that we believe the interests of men and women are antagonistic. On the contrary, they are essentially bound together. That is why our voices should be heard together.

For the love of justice, home and the little ones, the suffragette working women of England are standing shoulder to shoulder in demanding political freedom.

Those who will be free, themselves must strike the blow. We have asked, pleaded and prayed for over sixty years, but in vain!

Now we must fight!
